PEANUTS ARE WORTH A DOLLAR OR MORE.

College Station, Texas, Oct. 24, 1916. — I am reliably informed that peanuts have been selling in some sections of Texas at 65 to 80 cents a bushel. Oil mills and other purchasers of peanuts are paying, in the principal peanut sections, from $1 to $1.10 a bushel. Sales have been made as high as even $1.20.

Several weeks ago I suggested that peanuts be marketed slowly, because the oil mills would not care to handle peanuts until the cotton seed crush was fairly well over, and then expressed the opinion that peanuts would be worth 90 cents a bushel or more. My expectations have been more than fulfilled. Farmers who are not near to mills that crush peanuts should correspond with mills in the peanut sections. CLARENCE OUSLEY, Director.
